TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Two load locks are required and must be in place before the doors are sealed.

Driver must have the pick number to be loaded.

Bluebonnet will pass through to the Carrier, dollar for dollar, any late fee or work-in fee assessed by the shipper or receiver because the truck was not on time.

Carrier will be tracked by ELD integration or by the driver's phone for the duration of the load.

Where tracking cannot be established, payment terms are extended by fifteen days and a tracking fee of $125 is withheld.

Bluebonnet's tracking desk is available around the clock for any questions.

Carrier is entitled to $60 per hour after the first two hours at each facility, to a maximum of eight hours, when the arrival and departure times are recorded by the facility on the paperwork.

Layover is paid at a flat $200 per day when approved in advance by a Bluebonnet manager.

Bluebonnet settles carrier invoices 21 days after a complete paperwork packet is approved.

Carriers enrolled in FastFunds receive payment the next business day less 2.5%.

Payment will only be made to the Carrier named above. Bluebonnet does not accept assignment of payment to a third party unless a release letter is on file.

Original signed delivery documents are due within seven days. Bluebonnet may refuse payment on any load where documents arrive more than ninety days after delivery.

Receiver charges for restacking or reworking pallets that shifted in transit will be billed to the Carrier.

Carrier agrees that it will look only to Bluebonnet for payment and will not bill the shipper or receiver.

Any shortage noted on the delivery receipt will be deducted from the Carrier's settlement at the shipper's invoice price.

Seal number must be written on the bill of lading and remain intact; a broken or missing seal makes the Carrier liable for the entire load if the receiver rejects it.

Have a safe trip.
